GOSHEN MAN KILLS SELF WITH POISON

Wife Makes Frantic Effort to Force Olive Oil Down His Throat But in Vain.

GOSHEN, Sept. 13.—In spite of the frantic efforts of his wife to revive him, Joseph Coafe committed suicide Sunday afternoon at his home at Waterford, Ind., three miles from this city, by drinking a half pint of carbolic acid.

Mr. Coafe, who was a prominent man of Goshen, being employed by the Goshen Buggy Top Co., was seen around the streets as late as 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon when he returned to his home and retired to his room, seemingly for a few hours' rest.

Fred Drelich, a fruit tree agent, asked to see Coafe at about 3:45 o'clock and as Mrs. Coafe entered his room to inform him of the agent's presence she saw him swallow the carbolic acid. Neighbors and a brother of Mrs. Coafe, who was rooming at that place, came to the assistance of Mrs. Coafe, who tried to force the bottle of olive oil between his teeth. He told her she was trying to force the bottle of olive oil between his teeth.

Brooding over asthma with which he was afflicted is held as a possible cause. His domestic and financial conditions both reported to be good. He left no statement showing cause of his act and the only words he uttered after drinking the acid were spoken when his wife was trying to force the bottle of olive oil between his teeth. He told her she was trying to force the bottle of olive oil between his teeth.
